ALL THE NEWS OF NEARBY TOWNS AND HAMLETS

Reported by The Star's Staff Correspondents

Sandy Valley.
Mrs. George Platte returned last week from a visit with her parents at Punxsutawney.

George Harris, wife and daughter visited in the Valley Sunday, the guests of J. C. Harvey and family.

The new tippie at Sherwood mine has been completed and coal is being shipped under the management of J. C. Harvey.

Jacob Brocius and wife, of Summer-ville, are visiting their daughters, Mrs. W. T. Cox and Mrs. W. K. Garvin, in the valley.

An infant of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stanford died Monday, February 9, and was buried in Chestnut Grove cemetery February 11th.

George Platte bought a blooded pig some days ago, and recently piggie disappeared. After diligent search George has given up the hunt. He says he thought so much of the pig that it makes him feel like an orphan without it.

The company that is making the new opening at the Cox mine is hastening the work as fast as possible, they are working day and night shifts. THE STAR correspondent visited the mine recently and pronounced the work first-class. I have been informed that electric haulage will be used at this mine. Mr. H. Redding has charge of the work.

The writer had occasion to take a trip on a trolley line not many moons ago and among the passengers I noticed three gentlemen, and on inquiry I learned that one of them was a soap manufacturer, another was superintendent of a telephone company and the third was in the coal business. They were talking about worldly matters and commenting on the scenery along the route, namely a fat woman washing while a meek-eyed goat stood nearby eating the end of clothesline and keeping its "weather eye" on a cross dog that was chained to a neighbor's coal house, when suddenly the trolley car gave a lurch, one pair of trucks jumping to one side of the track and the other pair to opposite side, and the car started down the track side-wise. I have seen many sudden changes, but never have I seen three men get religious as quickly as those fellows did when they got on terra firma. The soap man was heard to say, "Doc, I think it is time to reform. In the future I will reduce the price of soap." The telephone man said, "Senator, I think the telephone service can be furnished cheaper. I'll take it up at the next business meeting." The coal dealer was the last to speak and he said, "Gentlemen, if I live to reach my destination I will pay the producers 25 cents per ton more for coal."

Sykesville.

Mary Ennis is visiting friends at Frostburg.

W. A. Gare called on friends in town on Thursday last week.

Mrs. C. M. Leach and Miss Jennie Walker were in DuBois last Friday.

After a long vacation the readers of THE STAR may expect to hear from Rathmel every week.

Rev. J. C. McEntire, of Reynoldsville, is holding revival meetings in the M. E. church here this week.

As Washington's birthday comes on Sunday this year, Miss Sara Belle Mohny, will give an entertainment in the P. O. S. of A. hall Monday, Feb. 23rd. Miss Mohny has 125 selections and will not repeat any at her second appearance only by request, so those who heard her early in January can come and hear something new. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

A Legacy of the Grip
Is often a run-down system. Weakness, nervousness, lack of appetite, energy and ambition, with disorderly liver and kidneys often follow an attack of this wretched disease. The greatest need then is Electric Bitters, the splendid tonic, blood purifier and regulator of Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Thousands have proved that they wonderfully strengthen the nerves, build up the system, and restore to health and good spirits after an attack of Grip. If suffering, try them. Only 50c. Perfect satisfaction guaranteed by H. Alex. Stokes.

"KNIVES AND FORKS"

DR. J. BELL NEFF

FRIDAY EVENING, February 20th, beginning promptly at eight o'clock, Dr. J. Bell Neff will deliver his lecture on "Knives and Forks" in Assembly Hall. Dr. Neff is well known in Reynoldsville and his lecture will be full of wit and practical suggestions, thereby providing entertainment and instruction. The lecturer comes in the interest of the Educational Rally, the programme of which is given elsewhere in these columns. To meet the expenses of holding this institute an admission of fifteen cents will be charged to the lecture. We trust that the citizens of Reynoldsville will not fail to hear Dr. Neff and thus encourage the committee in charge. The Reynoldsville orchestra will furnish music for the evening lecture. The sessions on Saturday will be open to all who are interested in educational matters, and vital subjects pertaining to school work will be ably discussed by those who have been placed on the program.

News of Interest to the Grangers

Benton Grange, No. 88, of Columbia Co., organized more than thirty years ago, added fifty-one members in 1902.

Union Grange, No. 802, Clearfield Co., had a public installation on Jan. 14, 1903. Worthy Deputy E. M. Davis, installing officer. Visitors were present from five neighboring granges. Speeches and supper followed the installation and the work of 1903 auspiciously begun.

Three new granges were organized in Pennsylvania during January, 1903. No. 1221, Clarion county, by Ed. M. McEntire, with thirteen charter members. No. 1222, Clearfield county, by E. M. Davis and Peter Gearhart, with thirty-five charter members. No. 1223, Tloga county, by G. W. Dickinson, with twenty-six charter members.

At the recent meeting of the Pennsylvania State Grange over four hundred delegates and several hundred visitors were present. One hundred and thirty-three members were initiated in the Sixth Degree. The reports of the Secretary and Treasurer showed larger receipts and a larger net increase in membership during the year 1902 than in any previous year for a decade. Harmony and enthusiasm were marked characteristics of the meeting.

Pennsylvania has eight Grange Mutual Fire Insurance Companies carrying risks aggregating over $15,000,000.00. One of the conditions for admission in all of them is that the insured must be a member in good standing in a Subordinate Grange. Some of these companies have been doing business more than a quarter of a century. The aggregate cost has been about one half of what the same class of risks costs in other companies. This is practical and profitable co-operation.

As an organization the Grange is a deliberative body, conservative in its action, well grounded in its principles, equity to all people and the interests and thoroughly established as one of the leading institutions of our land. The responsibilities of membership, therefore, are large and the opportunities for usefulness are still greater. It is our duty to be true, we cannot be more, we should not be less.—W. F. Hill.

The demand for good roads has been heard for many years in this state. Other interests are beginning to admit that the farmers should not bear all the cost of building and maintaining them. The probabilities are that the present legislature will make an appropriation for the public roads. This is in line with what the Grange has long been demanding. The Legislative Committee of the State Grange is striving to prevent this appropriation from being hedged about with burdensome conditions and denying that it shall be distributed in proportion to the number of miles of road in the several counties.

The following is an extract from the annual address of Aaron Jones, Master of the National Grange: "The wonderful growth, good reputation and increasing influence of the Order is due to the high character of its membership, its conservative and consistent course in standing above partisan, sectional or sectarian bias, and always standing solidly and unwaveringly for the right, fairness, equity and honesty in the exchange of commodities of farm, factory, and in all business, legislative, or other matters. The Order recognizes merit, culture, refinement and Christian character as of far greater value than wealth or official position. Good men and women, observing its work and the fraternal spirit which characterizes its members, have, and are, seeking admission to membership. The future growth and permanency of the Order is assured."

Farmers' Institute.

Following is the program of a farmers' institute to be held at Allens Mills on Wednesday and Thursday, February 25 and 26, 1903:

The first session will be held Wednesday afternoon, beginning at 1.30. Prayer by Rev. Geo. H. Hill. Address of welcome by Mrs. M. A. Boyer and response by C. J. Bullers. "Shall we fertilize the land or the crop?" J. J. McCurdy, Lewis Evans, and Alonzo Wilson. "The best way to get a catch of grass for pasture and hay," John Marshall and Jesse Hoffman. Question box, music and adjournment.

Evening session, beginning at 7.30. Recitation by Nellie G. Smith. "Central township school," W. C. Smith, Prof. S. A. Mahle, and Austin Blakeslee. Essay by Margaret Dickey. Music, question box and adjournment.

Thursday morning session, beginning at 9.30. Music. Prayer by Rev. J. K. Adams. "Poultry for profit," R. F. Morrison and Elmer Cooper. "Obnoxious weeds and how to fight them," M. H. Smith and J. H. Corbin. Question box, music and adjournment.

Afternoon session, beginning at 1.30. "Road improvement," J. G. Allen, G. W. Wilson, Martin Hetrick. "The cow, the feed and how to handle the milk," McCurdy Hunter and Thos. Mays. Question box, music and adjournment.

Evening session, beginning at 7.30. "Forage crops," Albert Williams, Frank Keys, and N. P. Clark. Recitation by Mabel Dougherty. "Has this institute been a benefit to us?" James Richards and W. J. Buchanan, followed by a general discussion. Essay by Mrs. D. S. Allen. Music and adjournment.

A question box will be kept on the secretary's desk, and all persons present are invited to place in it such questions as they may wish to have discussed during the session. At a time to be designated, these questions will be referred to persons for answer, or will be taken up for general discussion. For further information, and for programs address R. F. Morrison, local manager, Allens Mills.

EDITORIAL STAFF

EDITOR—
Nulu Neale
ASSISTANT EDITORS—
John Coleman
Claude Hamilton
LOCAL EDITOR—
Golds King

The following officers were elected Friday, Feb. 13th: Pres. Ed. Hardman; Vice Pres., Helena Black; sec., Mildred Ridgeway; critic, Mr. Kern; program committee, Clyde Murray, Will Reynolds and Villa Aley; editor, Nulu Neale; assistant editors, John Coleman and Claude Hamilton; local editor, Golda King.

During the german recitation one day last week when Prof. Smith asked Tom Nolan what an idiom was, Tom answered: "An idiom is a truth which needs no demonstration."

Last Friday when giving out the number of the song the president said: "No. 12 has been requested to sing."

Tom Nolan and Ed. Hardman have been elected as the new librarians.

One of the Seniors has commenced to walk in his sleep or it seems so from the number of times he can find excuses to cross the room.

Golds King was absent last week on account of sickness.

Mr. Kern thinks that some of the pupils in the high school act like spoiled children when they are told to close their books.

The only way one of the Juniors can tell which is her right side and which is her left is by standing in a certain door at her home.

The Seniors are very sorry to hear that they are going to lose Senior No. 7 as she is going to move to Indiana.

Walter M. Chandler will lecture on "The Trial of Jesus from the Lawyer's Standpoint," on March 6.

Feb. 20 will be celebrated as Flag Day and Washington's Birthday in the schools and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to visit the schools on that day.

Wanted—A bright boy to carry my books from Room 14 to Room 13. For full particulars inquire of Prof. O. B. Kern.

The electric lights were not on Saturday night but Senior No. 4 got home alright as the "shining light" of the Junior class was with her.

What was the matter with the smallest Junior girl on Monday morning? Was she jealous of the smallest Senior girl?

"Ich danke wah."—Bright Senior No. 5.

Saturday evening Feb. 14th Prof. C. V. Smith and wife entertained the high school at their home on Fifth street.

Each person represented some character in Shakespeare and an enjoyable evening was spent in guessing who the characters were. Edward Hardman, having guessed the greatest number received a very pretty valentine as a prize. After this, delicious refreshments were served. The rest of the evening was spent in listening to Villa Aley, who represented Hecate, queen of the witches, telling fortunes while Nulu Neale played the guitar.

Ask Claude Hamilton how to pronounce "quadruped."

When you try to Drive a Nail

You never think of stopping after the first tap, but repeat the blow again and again fair on the head until it is driven home. Same way with advertising. Facts are nails you must keep everlastingly pounding into the customers' heads if you would hold their trade. Not necessary to have a large ad all the time, nor a small one, but the merchant who would prosper must keep his business ever before the public.

(The Star, by the way, goes into almost every home in Reynoldsville, West Reynoldsville and Winslow township—what can be better to advertise in?)
